

High Mark Wind Farm

Public Consultation November 2022

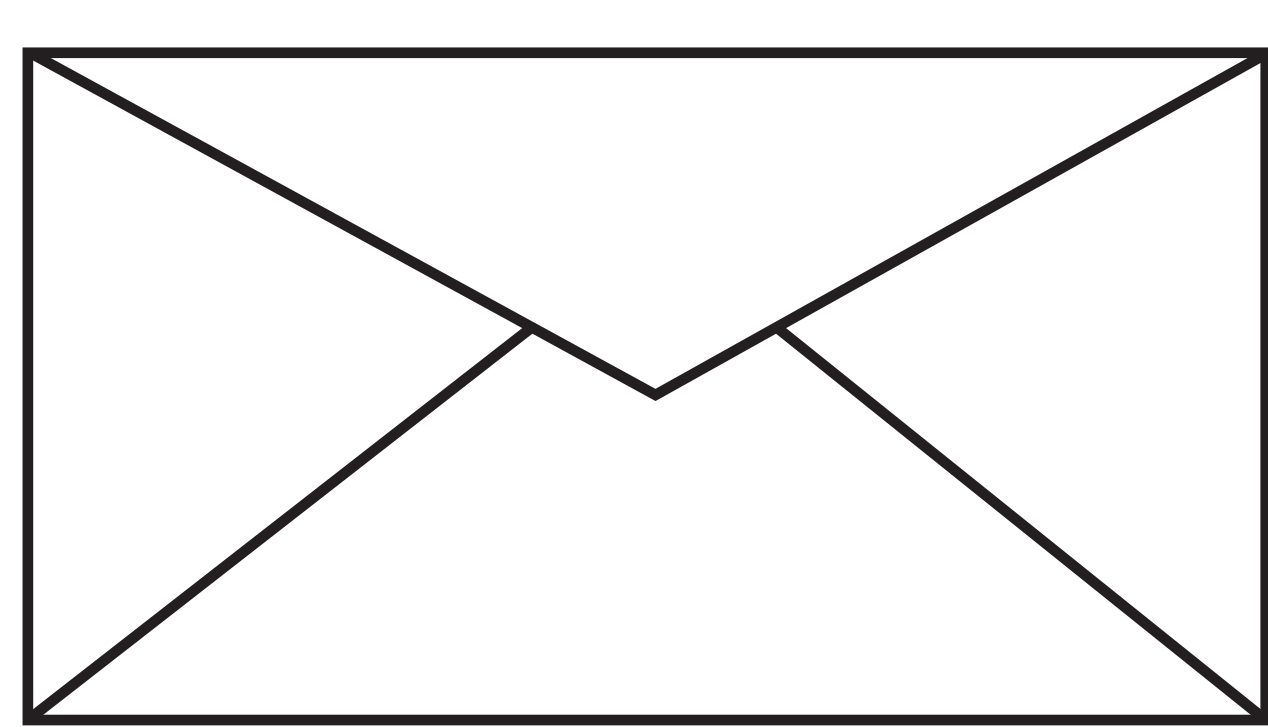

Thank you for taking time to come along to today's public exhibition for High Mark Wind Farm. This exhibition is being held to give the local community an opportunity to find out more about the Proposed Development and the environmental impact assessments underway as part of the Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) planning process.

Wind Estate are pursuing an opportunity to increase the supply of renewable energy across Scotland by proposing a new wind farm development called High Mark Wind Farm. This wind farm will consist of up to 8 turbines, with a tip height of up to 230m, with a generating capacity of up to 49.6MW of renewable energy.

Please take time to review the information presented. Members of the project team from Wind Estate and Green Cat Renewables are on hand to answer to any questions you may have.
